

DEAD-EYE JANE

Dead-Eye Jane is our game's protagonist and girlfriend of a good shooter, Peter. In the past, Peter went to a job, but he never came back. After his death, League of Shooters hired Jake, a new shooter moved from another state. Jane hated Jake as soon as he joins because she couldn't accept that he is Peter's replacement.

Tall and has a fit body, knowing she can overcome every physical obstacle as a former parkour athlete. Jane tightly braids her natural bright blonde hair every morning. She must wear orange tinted sunglasses always, so her sensitive brown eyes don't get hurt from the lights. Doesn't wear make-up because she likes her freckles. Wears a flexible white striped, black suit and a white shirt so she can look classy while getting a job done. White sneakers are her preferred footwear for agility, and you can see her wearing colorful socks and watches irrelevant to her suit. Wears an adjustable hip holster but the gun is always changing because she is master of single-handed guns, so she uses whatever they give, it really doesn't matter to her. But she wants to stop carrying guns around suspiciously, so she is trying to learn to kill a target with anything.

Jane got her nickname from her special killing technique, she always pierces the target from the eye, human or dummy. Everyone in the League thinks that there is no match for Jane. After moving out from her parents and going to another city, she enjoys her reputation there.

Despite her cute smile with curvy lips and lively eyes, she can look scary the second she stops smiling. Being this intimidating and talented, it isn't a surprise that she is one of top shooters in the League.
